The Sustainable Development of UK aviation

Sustainable Aviation is a unique coalition of airlines, airports, aerospace manufacturers and air traffic management, coming together to ensure a sustainable future for UK air travel. Each quarter we’ll be updating you on progress and announcements within the sector. If you’d like to know more about our long term strategy for air travel, please get in touch via the details below.

A World-First in Aviation Collaboration

Fourth Progress Report published

Click here to read our fourth biennial report, reviewing progress made against our goals and commitments to tackle the challenge of ensuring a sustainable future for our industry.

SA Noise Road-Map

In 2013 we launched the industry’s first ever Noise Road-Map, demonstrating how noise from UK aviation will not increase despite a near doubling in flights over the next 40 years.

SA CO₂ Emissions Road-Map

SA has published a CO₂ Road-map explaining how governments and the aviation industry can achieve the industry target of halving CO₂ emissions by 2050, compared to 2005.

DFT consultation on Advanced Fuels

With government support, by 2050 sustainable fuels could offer up to 24% reduction in CO₂ emissions, provide green jobs and improve fuel security. Read our response here.

News from some of our Members

NATS and Airbus ProSky to work together to address industry challenges click here

Boeing and the University of Nottingham recycling aircraft carbon fibre click here

Virgin Atlantic launches first ever Noise Management Strategy click here

Heathrow included in top 10 in the corporate world for responsible business click here

British Airways to build the world’s first facility to convert landfill waste into jet fuel click here

Coming up...

Summer 2014 - SA Fuels Road-Map Launch

July 2014 - Farnborough International Airshow (14th-20th)

Autumn 2014 - SA Party Conference Exhibitions

www.sustainableaviation.co.uk

For more information, please contact: comms@SustainableAviation.co.uk

If you do not wish to receive this briefing, please respond to this email with “unsubscribe” in the heading.